Boston Sculptors Showcased At BCEC

What: Boston Sculptors Gallery (BSG) is Boston's premier venue for sculpture, featuring exciting and varied contemporary work by Boston area artists. The MCCA Art Program is proud to showcase sculptures from three of BSG's talented artists, Murray Dewart, Joseph Wheelwright and Peter Decamp Haines, from now until the end of June, 2008 at the Boston Convention & Exhibition Center (BCEC).

Who: Dewart, co-founder of the BSG, has built large public and private sculptures across the United States and his work is represented in more than a dozen permanent collections including the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston. Wheelwright, a master carver of stones, trees, bones and other natural materials, is represented in New York at the Allan Stone Gallery, and currently has sculpture on display in Harvard, MA at historic Fruitlands Museum. Peter Haines works in bronze cast from wax models, making pieces ranging from palm sized to over six feet tall. Over the past ten years, Dewart and Haines have worked collaboratively on major public art installations in China.

When: Now until the end of June, 2008

Where: Boston Convention & Exhibition Center
415 Summer Street
Boston.
